DESCRIPTION: "IN SEARCH OF INDIANS AND ALLIGATORS FLORIDES - RIDDLES AND SECRETS OF THE RESERVE"

The road from the bus stop to one of the mysterious and rare places in the moors of the Everglades Reserve takes about 1 hour. During this time, the group will be able to talk with the guide on various topics of interest, as well as learn about what birds and animals, except alligators, live in these wild natural places. During the tour, you will also learn the history of the unconquered Indian tribe of Mikosuki, visit the modern Indian village and visit the swamps where the indigenous people once lived more than 40 years ago. On the way, you will make one stop in an unusual suburban shop where you can, if necessary, drink coffee, grab a bite and buy some unusual souvenirs, for example real alligator sausages or cowboy hats and heads of alligators. Further to the place there will be very little and you are on the territory of Indian reservations. A couple of photos under the flags of the Indians, the village museum and now you are on the show of alligators, where a live person with bare feet will go straight into the cage with alligators, catch one of them and show how to cope with the snaps alone with bare hands. After a short walk on the wood floor and around the reservoir with reptiles, you will have a fascinating walk on the glider with a breeze through the wild swamps to the old Indian village. After a tour of the marshes, you will go back to Miami with a guide and find out on the way back about one of the mysterious stories of the disappeared passenger flight. If you wish, the whole group will be able to visit a small restaurant where you will cook deep-fried alligator, catfish or frog meat.

During the tour you will see:

Beautiful expanses of real Florida bogs

Variety of flora and fauna of wild nature

Wild herons, ducks and other birds

A lot of alligators, water turtles and a variety of fish

Modern Indian Village

An old Indian dwelling in the marshes

Indian reservations

Glissers - Air Boats

Handicrafts and Souvenirs for Indians

You will learn:

Interesting story of unconquered people

How did the descendants of the Indians live and how?

How to cope with alligators alone

Than the alligator is different from the crocodile

Where do alligators live in the world

How many teeth does an alligator have?

Does the Alligator have a language

Are alligators attacking people?

What predators except for alligators live in the reserve

Who is dangerous for an alligator

What is prepared from alligator meat
