DESCRIPTION:

You've heard about them on Facebook, you've seen them in the news, so why not come and hang out or swim with the famous Exuma Pigs! Hop aboard a high-speed powerboat and jet across the waves to the serene and stunning Exuma Cays. Here you can: -swim with pigs-encounter the endangered Bahamian dragon-feed stingrays and sharks-kick back on a pristine beach and enjoy a delicious waterfront lunch with an open bar during your day on this secluded isle. The adorable island pigs on Ship Channel Cay are not only super cute, and super friendly too! Some may swim with you, some may be looking for a tasty treat, or maybe they'll just want to hang out for a scratch behind the ears! From there, climb back into the boat and speed off to Ship Channel Cay, your private island for the day. Enjoy snacks and refreshments, stroll the scenic 2.5-mile (4-km) length of the island, go for a dip in the turquoise waters, or lounge in the shade of a beachfront fishing cottage. Grab a drink from the open bar as your friendly crew starts grilling fresh fish for your lunch. You're not the only ones who are hungry on the island, though—graceful stingrays and even fearsome sharks all cozy up to shore for a snack at feeding time. Watch this incredible marine spectacle as you fill your plate with savory island dishes. The rest of the afternoon is yours for swimming, snorkeling, and relaxing on the white-sand beach with a drink in hand before the 1-hour boat ride back to Nassau. See you at Exuma!!!
